

All important institutions in a democracy, including the media, need to be close to the people they serve. Please do not allow more media consolidation.